Sustainable Skyline Dallas Mayor Leppert, Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Regional Administrator Greene, and North Central Texas Council of Governments (NCTCOG) Executive Director Eastland,

Environmental improvement is achieved through cooperative action. Green Mountain Energy is pleased to partner with the City of Dallas, US EPA, and NCTCOG to work towards implementing sustainable practices that help improve Dallas' air quality. Through the Dallas Sustainable Skylines Initiative, Green Mountain Energy pledges to support one or more of the following project categories:

Donating Compact Florescent Light Bulbs for the City of Dallas/Dallas Fire Department Smoke Detector Program.

Developing a City of Dallas Employee, Green Mountain Energy Residential Product.

Developing a solar panel program.

Establishing a City of Dallas/Sustainable Skylines Carbon Calculator.

Working with the City of Dallas and the Dallas Vistors/Convention Bureau on meeting and conference opportunities to offset carbon emissions.

Working on City of Dallas/Dallas Chamber of Commerce initiatives that support the Dallas Sustainable Skylines program.

As members of the Dallas community, we recognize our responsibility to be good environmental stewards and manage our environmental impacts in a way that provides for a sustainable future. We look forward to building a sustainable Dallas with you.

Sincerely,

Russel Head
Vice President
Green Mountain Energy

The Dallas Sustainable Skylines Initiative is a joint effort with the primary goal of implementing sustainable practices to help improve Dallas' air quality. Through Initiative-guided voluntary projects, the Initiative aims to achieve measurable environmental benefits--particularly the reduction of air emissions, but also the significant improvement of water and land quality--while simultaneously contributing to the vitality of the Dallas economy and the quality of life of Dallas' citizens. In the longer term, the Initiative aims to create a successful and reproducible program that serves as a model for other cities.
